SUBJECT: Training Conference/Workshop for Training Officers and Learning Professionals

SPB and DPA are pleased to announce the California Network of Learning Professionals (CNLP) 2006 training conference scheduled for May 24th -25th at the College of Continuing Education, California State University, Sacramento (CSUS).

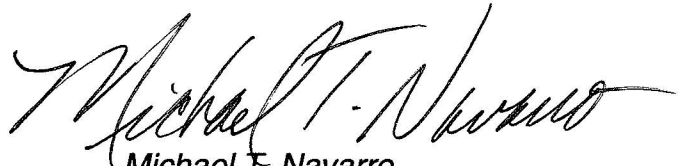

The State of California continues to face challenges in workforce planning, recruitment, retention, employee development and training. Now is the time to share resources to benefit state departments. Therefore, SPB, DPA, College of Continuing Education, CSUS, and Cooperative Personnel Services have partnered to provide an informative learning experience for state training and learning professionals.

This two-day conference titled "Staying Connected," will offer a variety of training sessions on the importance of training and staff development as a necessary investment in state employees. This unique collaboration will bring human resources development to the forefront in an effort to meet your organization's goals. It will reinforce the sharing of our individual strengths for the benefit of educating and developing our workforce. Attached are the conference agenda, workshop descriptions, and registration information.

We encourage you to send your key training and learning professional staff to this informative and collaborative event. SPB, DPA, CNLP, and other conference partners look forward to your department's participation at the conference, as we continue to support training and development as an integral part of workforce planning.

If you have any questions about the conference, please contact Kathy Jones at kjones@dca.cslb.ca.gov or for additional conference registration information, please visit the following website address: <https://secure.cps.ca.gov/registration/sts/>.
